NURSING BRIDGE

Associate Degree Program

Licensed practical nurses ready for a bigger challenge will find it with Carrington College's Nursing Bridge program. It provides theoretical content and clinical experience in nursing, and incorporates knowledge from related disciplines.

This rigorous program requires roughly three days per week of on-campus instruction as well as 180 hours of clinical experience. Graduates of the Nursing Bridge program earn an Associate of Science degree and are prepared to take the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses, or NCLEX-RN.*
